

From research excellence to leadership: What is a professor today?

A professional development and networking event

22 January 2016, organised at the Swiss National Science Foundation (SNSF), Berne, by "Réseau romand de mentoring pour femmes" and "Mentoring Deutschschweiz"

Programme

17:30 Arrival and registration (incl. refreshments)

18:00 Welcome

- Opening by organisers
- Dr. Angelika Kalt, Deputy Director SNSF

18:15 Research, teaching, leadership... What are the demands on today's professors?

A round table discussion moderated by Dr. Pamela Alean-Kirkpatrick, with

- Prof. Marilyne Andersen, EPF Lausanne, Interdisciplinary Laboratory of Performance-Integrated Design, Dean of the School of Architecture, Civil and Environmental Engineering ENAC
- Prof. Annuska Derks, University of Zurich, Department of Social Anthropology
- Prof. Juliet Fall, University of Geneva, Head of the Department of Geography and Environment
- Prof. em. Norbert Thom, University of Berne, Institute for Organization and Human Ressource Management

19:15 Reflection on the discussion from a theoretical perspective

by Prof. Nicky Le Feuvre, University of Lausanne, Institute of Social Sciences, Vice dean of the Faculty of Social and Political Sciences

19:35 Conclusion

moderated by Dr. Pamela Alean-Kirkpatrick

19:45 Reception (Apéro riche)

with posters, interaction and exchange of ideas

The venue will stay open until 22:00