Dear Students,

The Summer Academies of the Swiss Study Foundation are open to all students of Swiss Universities. They offer a unique opportunity to explore topics beyond your own field of study—subjects you may have always been curious about. The participation fee for each academy is 200 CHF.

The Summer Academies function like small-scale think tanks. In interdisciplinary groups of fifteen to twenty participants, students are introduced to new areas of knowledge by experts and independently engage with various topics. The groups are carefully composed to ensure a diverse mix of students from different disciplines and regions.

These academies provide an outstanding learning environment. With two to four lecturers per academy, students receive individualized support that is rarely available in regular university settings. Engaging discussions encourage critical thinking, deepen understanding of complex issues, and foster the exchange of ideas and solutions. The intensive and inspiring learning atmosphere creates space for meaningful interactions and networking. Excursions and evening events further facilitate connections and informal exchange.
