

ANCIENT PHILOSOPHY SUMMER SCHOOL

JUNE 10-15, 2024

UNIVERSITÉ DE FRIBOURG (SWITZERLAND)

We are delighted to advertise the opportunity to participate in the Fribourg Philosophy Summer School under the topic

Definition, Essence and Explanation in Ancient Greek Philosophy with Katja Maria Vogt (Columbia University) & Pieter Sjoerd Hasper (Hamburg University).

This summer school invites participants to delve into the world of definitions within ancient Greek philosophy, and in the thought of Plato, Aristotle and the Stoics in particular.

Throughout the week, our program will include:

- Lectures, where you will delve into the historical context, foundational concepts, and key ideas that underpin the topic of definition in antiquity
- Discussion sessions, where you will participate in lively exchanges with fellow students
- Reading sessions, to delve into primary texts and engage with the ideas firsthand
- Small group discussions, fostering collaborative exploration

To apply for participation, please send an application email to: definition-summer-school@unifr.ch

Registration is open until 02.04.2024.
